A certain little damsel, having been aggravated beyond endurance by her brother, plumped down on her knees, and cried, "O. Lord! bless my brother Tom. He lies, he steals, he swears; all boys do; us girls don't. Amen."

An old rough clergyman once took for his text that passage of the Psalms, "I said in my haste, all men are liars." Looking apparently, as if he saw the Psalmist standing, before him, he said, "You said it in your haste, David! If you had been here, you might have said it after mature deliberation."

Opera airs in church are out of place. "That's the organ," said the mother to her little child, who was at church for the first time. "The organ? But where is the monkey, mother?' asked the child. "This mule," remarked the livery stable unan, as they passed the stall where the animal was leaning up against the partition, dreaming of an Eden wherein there was but one mule and a thousand timid men,-" this mule is a kicker." "This one?" innocently inquired the young man, laying his hand upon the mule's bustle to be sure that the proper animal was bustle to be sure that the proper animal was indicated. "This-." The liveryman said he didn't mind the loss of the money (as the young man did not take out the fancy rig he was going to look at), but what he hated about DENTAL OFFICE, FORT STREET. it was having the roof of the stable mussed up so where the young man went through.

About the time the keg was empty, he said, for a moment his con wience told him he was doing wrong. He picke dup an ax and knocked the head of the other keg in, and (here he was interrupted by the deacon's starting the ery of "Amen!" "Thank God!" "Glory be to God!") After the house became quiet he continued: "I knocked in the head of that keg, gave the boys a tin cup, and told them to help themselves." Yet we love him well. Only a boy, who will be a man If nature goes on with her first great plan-If water, or fire, or some fatal snare Conspire not to rob us of this our heir, Our blessing, our trouble, our rest, our care, Our terment, our jay,

A man who had announced his first attack of rheumatism learned in one-half hour that the following would cure it: Iodide of potassium, quinine, glauber salts, onione, raw lemons, raw silk, oil silk, gin and tansey, rock candy and whisky, Turkish baths, a potato carried in his pocket, a horse chestnut carried in his pocket, an eel skin around his leg, a suit of red flannel, a dry atmosphere, equable temperature, sulphur baths, mustard and bot water baths, mustard and hot water, camphor liniment
